

Twenty-Three Holds Its Breath As Boys Play At Georgetown

By GEORGE HASKETT

Playing before a full house, the red and white sweated crew of No. 23, Newmarket, dropped the opening tilt of the semi-final, intermediate hockey series, by an 8-3 score, to the visiting Brampton Army Bullets.

Originally scheduled for a home-and-home, two-game series, goals to count on the round, Newmarket and Brampton now play a two out of three game series. The second game goes to the Georgetown arena, home ice of the Bullets, tonight. It will be now or never for Capt. Kerr's squad.

Holding on to the star-packed Brampton sextet, the Redmen were one down as the bell rang out to wind up a speedy, hectic first session.

In the second show the Newmarket commandos Johnny Callanan rammed home the equalizer, Avison going down the line for an assist. Then it happened, bingo. The scoring wallow packed by Brampton front-liners exploded and before the smoke had cleared six goals had landed in the twine behind Pat Corrigan.

The canal town soldier squadron held the Bullets off the score sheet in the final show but the damage had been done. Jack Wheeler, fast-stepping blue-line operator, parked Newmarket's final marker in the net after Wally Zuki raced through the Brampton rearguards and slipped the old boot heel over to him.

Ted Lister skated in for five of Brampton's total. The lanky lad was flying on the wing line all evening and there was just no stopping him. "Joint" McComb, "Bun" White and Joe Iannarelli got the other markers.

He was a member of Kerr lodge, Blue Masons, Barrie, a life member of the Barrie lodge of Perfection of Scottish Rite Masons, with the Rose Croix (18th degree) and a member of the Doric chapter.

PARTIES AGREE FARMER NEEDS BETTER DEAL

By GEORGE H. MITCHELL,
M.P.P. FOR NORTH YORK

'This has been an extremely busy week in the legislature. About two dozen bills have been introduced and many of them have gone through all the stages and become law.

None of the bills we have considered so far has been very controversial. But they have been sound legislation, and I think all the members feel we have done a good job in getting ahead with them so rapidly.

The debate on the speech from the throne has also been proceeding, and we have heard some interesting speeches. Premier Drew spoke at some length on the necessity of adopting more careful forestry practices in order to conserve these valuable resources and prevent the waste and loss which have so often occurred in the past. He promised at a later date to bring in a bill establishing a forest resources commission, which would have full administrative power to see that proper forestry practices are carried out.

The premier also spoke about the re-planting of Ontario's House in London. He told us it was already in use as a clearing centre for Ontario troops in Britain and that after the war it would be continued with the triple purpose of encouraging immigration, encouraging British industries to come to Ontario and informing the British people about Ontario products.

Ex-Premier Nixon followed Premier Drew. He discussed several of the changes proposed by the new government. Mr. Nixon was naturally quick to defend the policies followed by the former government of which he was a member, but he did so in a fair and friendly way. He praised the government on the first steps which had been taken toward levelling out hydro rates and promised his support if the government would even go a bit farther. This is a point on which most of the private members on both sides of the house seem to be agreed.

Mr. Nixon's only word of real criticism was the lack so far of definite action to implement the government's pledge to pay half the cost of school taxes now charged against real estate. He expressed the hope that the government would bring in legislation to carry out this promise and warned them that there would be widespread disappointment throughout the province if they did not.

We have heard two fine speeches on agriculture this week by Agnes Macphail (C.C.F. York East) and Farquhar Oliver (Lib., Grey South). I was particularly interested to see that though they belong to different parties, they were agreed on many points. In fact, I think it safe to say that almost every member of the house agrees that the farmer has had a very poor deal in the past and that he must get a much better deal in the future.

Both speakers were emphatic in their attack on conditions in the livestock industry, where they felt that the farmer was subject to too great a spread between the price the farmer got for his product and the price the consumer paid. Miss Macphail suggested that the first step to correct this situation was the organization of producers into commodity groups through which they could bargain collectively for fair prices, and the second step was operation of the packing plants by the farmers themselves. Mr. Oliver also spoke strongly in favor of commodity group organization, and though he did not go quite as far as regards the packing plants, he agreed that strong action must be taken to protect the farmer from exploitation.

Kelso Roberts (P.C., Toronto-St. Patrick) discussed social security and urged the closest dominion-provincial co-operation to establish a national minimum of security. He has obviously studied the March report and the Beveridge report closely, and he emphasized the point which has been agreed on by all students of this subject, that social security can be made possible after the war only if we are able to maintain full employment. He also urged better treatment for wounded members of the armed forces and their dependents.

Mr. Roberts was warmly applauded from both sides of the house when he suggested that there should be office accommodation for private members. This seems to be a hard-working house and at present there is no private place except one's own desk in the legislative chamber between sittings where letters can be dictated or speeches prepared. Doubtless there is no more space available now, but we are hoping better arrangements can be made at some future date.

The first night sitting on Thursday evening was also the stormiest we have had so far. Arthur Williams (C.C.F., Ontario) criticized the federal government in relation to the Ontario government in declaring its intention to extend the order and apply it to all Ontario industry instead of implementing its promise to bring in "the federal and most advanced labor legislation." Mr. Williams was frequently interrupted from the other side of the house, but he stuck to his guns and challenged the minister of labor to table the bill he was supposed to have prepared earlier, so that members could study it. The challenge was refused.

NEWMARKET ENJOYS EXHIBITION OF ART

(By CAROLINE EDWARDS and FLORENCE BUDD)

Although not an exhibit of world famous masters such as is now being shown at the Grange art gallery in Toronto, we had some fine works of art shown at our Newmarket exhibit which would do credit to a much larger centre. It is doubtful if there is another rural community in Canada where one could find such a variety of outstanding work.

The oil colors of Robert L. Chadwick consisted entirely of winter landscapes. His broad handling of the medium shows a charming individuality somewhat in the trend of the modern Canadian movement. Some of his larger pieces had been hung at the Ontario Society of Artists and Royal Academy exhibitions.

The Devon landscape and its quaint cottages and gardens were admirably depicted in Frank Denison's group of oil colors. His harbor scenes in Gloucester and Spain showed an intimate acquaintance with his subjects.

Fred Hagan's contribution to the show consisted largely of lithographs. His handling of the crayon had a distinctly individualistic freedom and his subject matter leaned toward the abstract in sharp contrast with the other group. Oils and drawings rounded out the display of this versatile artist.

William Hopkinson's group of paintings showed a fine delineation of Ontario in a variety of seasonal moods. His fine draftsmanship and definition of colors were well exemplified in his selection for this occasion. His work has been represented in several exhibitions of the Ontario Society of Artists.

Clement King's paintings were dominated by his intimate group of the moods of the sea around and about his favorite sketching ground, Gloucester, and the rugged coasts of Maine. These were further supplemented by his "Wasaga Beach" and "October Woods," of more local character and equal in understanding of his subject.

Rudy Renzius, of international renown as a designer, admirably portrayed his skill in his representative group of wood sculpture. Restrictions on pewter and copper, owing to the war, hampered him in what would otherwise have been a more comprehensive presentation of his versatility.

In contrast, Ross Hugo lent to the exhibit a delightful and interesting collection of water colors. His compositions seemed unbounded by conventionalities and his use of tonal values were true in the portrayal of the countryside of which Haliburton was the background for much of his work. This artist is versatile, as was shown by his wood carvings which were delicately beautiful in line and life-like in feeling.

Oliver Eves' oils, though limited in number, demonstrated a skillful handling of the medium. The concert held during the exhibition were most enjoyable. Terry Doane's "Sylvia," "Old Man River" and "On the Road to Mandalay" were sung with feeling and understanding. Illyd Harris accompanied Mr. Doane at the piano.

Mrs. W. F. Armour's piano solos were beautifully executed. She played "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 15" and "Dark Eyes."

Mrs. Alice Strong Rourke sang a group of songs, "My Lovely Celia," an old English melody, "Solvig Song" by Grieg and "Love's Philosophy" by Quilter. Mrs. Rourke's interpretation of these numbers was most pleasing and they were sung with perfect purity of tone. Gordon Hallett acted as accompanist. Mr. Hallett's piano numbers, "Liebestraume," "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 11," and "Prelude in C Minor" were ably presented and showed feeling and skill.

Two movies were shown, entitled "Birds and Flowers of Canada," and "Canadian Landscape," showing the work of the artist, A. Y. Jackson.

Mrs. W. H. Bell, on behalf of the Home and School Association, gave an address of welcome on Wednesday evening.

Women's Work Increases Value Of Money Gifts

(By Leonora Starr, Newmarket Red Cross)

We ask all branch members to interest themselves in giving every possible assistance to the forwarding of the cause of the campaign for Red Cross funds, says the March News Bulletin. Talk about it, work for it. Make sure that every individual in your own particular district knows all about the Red Cross work and how the money is spent.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars is set aside in the national budget for the blood donor service this year.

Only the Red Cross sends parcels of food to prisoners of war. Five million five hundred thousand dollars, or more than half of all the money asked for in the national campaign, supports this project. Eighty thousand parcels per week are sent to the international Red Cross in Geneva for the pool for British empire prisoners of which the Canadian Red Cross pays for 30,000, Australian Red Cross 10,000 and British Red Cross 40,000.

Only the Red Cross finds missing persons in enemy and occupied countries, sends messages to families there.

Since war's beginning, and up to date, Canadian Red Cross has shipped nearly 30 million articles of civilian relief, hospital supplies and woolen comforts to servicemen and women.

Three million dollars is required to cover the cost of all materials, purchased during the year 1943, from which these are made by the women of Canada. This includes cost of warehousing, freight and cartage in Canada and overseas, as well as workroom supplies and expenses. This $3,000,000 is only the cost, practically, of the raw material. When we realize the full value of the work of the women of Canada it undoubtedly brings this figure closer to $8,000,000 in value.

It is you who keep these Red Cross activities alive. The Canadian Red Cross needs ten million dollars. In Ontario we need to raise five million. On Canadians rests the whole responsibility. Give! Give! Give!

MOUNT ALBERT SAFE PROVES TO BE LEMON

A safe was taken from the Mount Albert creamery on Friday night, but the habit of Edward Watt, manager of the creamery, of banking the day's cash each afternoon resulted in disappointment to the safe-robbers.

Mr. Watt was unable to state what the robbers would have obtained had he not banked the creamery funds late Friday afternoon, but he said it would have been a large sum.

Constable Joseph Jardine said robbers jammed the front door and evidently removed the safe in a car or truck. This strong-box was found Saturday morning east of Holt and beside it was a collection of railway tools which the thieves had used for smashing open the safe. In the snow beside the safe police found two spike hammers, two crowbars, an axe and an adze. Most of the books, records and papers the safe contained were found Saturday morning scattered in a ditch near Sharon, five miles from where the safe was found.

WILL CLOSE RINK

Newmarket town council decided on Monday evening to close the skating rink at the pond before mild weather sets in.

Need Grows, Victory May Be Far Off, Is Red Cross Message

"The need grows as victory nears but victory may be a long way off," said a Newmarket Red Cross campaign statement this week.

"How many of our dear ones will be urgently in need of the Red Cross services before victory is ours? These services can only be supplied if the necessary funds are provided.

"This is your chance to assist in providing your share. Give generously. Do not wait to be asked. The Red Cross serves them all. Are you doing your share?"

The Newmarket branch objective is $7,500. Amount subscribed to date is $2,850.

"Newmarket, we are lagging," said Chairman H. E. Lambhart. "Over one half of the campaign days are gone and we have not reached the half-way mark of that $7,500, while some places have already exceeded their objective and are aiming at a much higher figure.

"The canvassers and the committee will be disappointed, of course, if we fail in our objective. But they will not suffer, while if these funds so urgently needed are not provided some of our own men and women overseas may suffer. The sacrifice may be theirs. The challenge is definitely ours.

"Canvassers report being well received with many contributions being larger than before, but there are still some cases of refusals and criticisms. Can we allow petty criticisms to overrule good common sense? Returned men by the score praise the Red Cross. It must be right or it wouldn't exist. Let's make this last week count and if we can let's give again if necessary.

"Measure your own comfort with those in the various services. No matter what we do, can it compare with the discomforts of our men and women overseas? Let us not break faith with those who serve!"

Prisoner Knows What Red Cross Is Doing

Flying Officer Arthur Hawtin, a Beaverton boy shot down over Germany and a prisoner there since last summer, has again authorized his mother to send a cheque for $25, to aid the Canadian Red Cross campaign for funds.

Like his first cheque for similar amount, this one is earmarked "Prisoners of War Food Parcel Fund." Flying Officer Hawtin says: "The parcels are arriving regularly and keep the boys going." Arthur Hawtin is a grandson of Mrs. M. F. Starr, Pleasantville.

Soldier-Citizen Club Is One Of Best, Says Dixon

"Approximately 2,700 soldiers have been entertained at the Soldiers' club," Councillor Wm. Dixon stated at a Newmarket town council meeting on Monday evening.

Mr. Dixon asked that the club be remembered when the finance committee was making up its budget.

"It is one of the best canteens in Canada," said Mr. Dixon. He stated that the club had received high praise from officers who inspected the club.

"The attitude of the officers at the camp has been very good," said Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales. "They expect the boys to behave and they do. The co-operation we get from the camp is wonderful."

Mr. Dixon praised the work of the Newmarket ladies who spend so much time making things at the canteen home-like for the boys.

IMPROVED POLICE SERVICE FORECAST

A special meeting of Newmarket town council will be held next Monday evening to discuss a change in the police system, it was decided at a Newmarket town council meeting on Monday evening.

The change would involve a mill on the tax rate, stated Councillor Wm. Dixon, chairman of the police committee. Improved night patrol service was understood to be included in Mr. Dixon's plan.

DISCUSS ANNUAL STUDY OF EMPLOYEES' WAGES

Whether the council wanted to review the wages of town employees was asked by Councillor Joseph Vale at a Newmarket town council meeting on Monday evening.

Mr. Vale credited Councillor J. L. Spillette with the suggestion that an annual review of wages should be made. Mr. Spillette did not remember making the suggestion, but approved of the proposal.

Reeve Fred A. Lundy suggested that a list of wages paid should be brought in. He thought that town employees, with one or two exceptions, were "fairly well paid."

No action was taken.

MAKING PRIVATE ENTERPRISE ACCEPTABLE

One of the arguments frequently used against any "socialistic experiment"—and an argument that may have some truth—is that if the state becomes the chief employer men may lose their right to belong to trade unions and to strike. We suppose that the public ownership advocate's answer would be that when workmen have a large voice in government, and government operates a business in which they are employed, there will be no need to strike, or that workmen will still have trade unions if they want them.

A point we frequently wonder about is why those who keep holding up to the workingman the danger of losing trade unions, with the private enterprise system, do not try to demonstrate to him that he can belong to a union now. Only a small proportion of Canadian workmen belong to bona fide trade unions. Industries are far-sighted when they welcome trade unions. Trade unions may at times be unreasonable and even greedy but they make sure that employees are satisfied. When employers keep trade unions out of their plants they cause their employees to seek other means of gaining their ends. If they can't share in control of the plant through a trade union, employees determine to share in control of it through government.

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era and Express: The letter on parliamentary procedure by George Mitchell, M.P.P. for York North, in last week's Era and Express proved very interesting.

The editor and Mr. Mitchell are to be congratulated on acquainting the public by this method. This shows that Mr. Mitchell is sitting in the house and is sufficiently interested in his electorate to send back a report. Hoping this weekly report will continue throughout the session, I am,

Yours truly,
A. R. Armitage.
R. R. 3, Newmarket,
March 6, 1944.

Editor, The Era and Express: Your editorial re education was interesting. Perhaps extracts from George Drew's address to the Toronto Teachers' Council would be enlightening.

The great Hungarian democrat, Kossuth, said, "I consider that it is on instruction and education that the future security and direction of the destiny of every nation chiefly and fundamentally rests." It is from those words of Kossuth's that I have drawn the title for my remarks tonight. I believe that the true basis of all security is education. No mere promises of security in printed word can ever provide real security except through the action of people who have been properly educated for the tasks of life and their own self-government. . . . This brings me to the teaching of history itself. I believe this is a very much more important subject than is sometimes admitted.

"I believe it is a legitimate function of education to instill in the minds of our youth a proper pride in their own community, their own province, in Canada, and in the larger British fellowship with which we are associated. No matter how much our men and women may know about the mechanics of our system of government and their relationship to that government, their judgments can never be based upon adequate understanding unless they know the history of the community and people with which those governments are dealing. History is no mere academic subject. As a people we are the product of our own history. The history of every country is made up of a combination of successes and failures, of victories and defeats. We are no exception.

"But recognizing the mistakes and balancing them against achievement, it is nevertheless essential to good citizenship that a decent love of one's country should be instilled in the minds of our youth by the training in our schools. . . . And I will go farther. We have grown to our present stature as part of the British Commonwealth and Empire. We are members of a great British partnership of free peoples. That is no vague emotional expression. It is part of the constitution of Canada itself. Our fellowship with British people elsewhere throughout the world is established as a condition of the pact of Confederation itself. It is therefore just as much a reality as the unity of Canada within Confederation."

I have been personally dissatisfied with certain aspects of our educational system for a long time.

It would be much better if our children left school with some skill developed which they can use to make a living. Greater opportunity along academic lines for bright children should also be provided by way of scholarship or some other assistance where the parents are unable to send their children to institutions of higher learning.

The importance of history cannot be too highly emphasized as to how it has affected democracy and our associations with the British Empire. Our new Canadians should be given the privilege of having this information which has as a matter of course been handed down to many of us.

The great risk of standing alone as a small nation has been shown in this war. It looks as though the alternative of staying in the British Empire or joining the United States might arise. The glorious heritage of being British should be properly understood by all our people. Alfred the Great, the Magna Charta, William Lyon Mackenzie, Mrs. Pankhurst (women's suffrage) and the great struggles for civil and religious liberty should be understood and appreciated.

Liberty should not be taken or given away.

This, I think, represents much of George Drew's educational "Excelsior."

Sincerely yours,
J. D. Sibbald.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

BAZAAR

The word bazaar is a sort of "open Sesame." It calls up all sorts of pictures, from the little open-faced stalls of the Orient, where everything is found from gorgeous rugs to worthless trifles and from story-tellers to snake charmers, from the gaily decorated tables of some huge city affair to the smaller but no less intriguing ones in smaller centres.

All these have their place, and deserve it, but I'd like to write a little about one our Pina Orchard Institute put on, not in any hall but in a home—the home of Mrs. Earl Toole.

We needed funds for our various war activities. Suppers that used to help out are, under war conditions, a headache which does not yield to ordinary sedatives, for who can make cake or pie without lots of sugar, and who is going to squander their own too, too elusive sugar outside their own sphere.

So some bright soul suggested a bazaar—just a little one among our friends and members, and we were all to contribute an article or articles and a committee was appointed to put a price upon them.

The first day the bazaar was to have taken place the snow descended and the winds blew and from various roads came word of blocked lanes and blocked roads.

So, in spite of the feeling that put-off things are sometimes a failure, we postponed our affair.

Came the second day with more snow, but not enough to stop the determined souls who were bound to go through with it THIS time! Two women walked over three miles, so you may know the spirit that prevailed. The very atmosphere of the home when we entered it, was charged with life and gaiety.

Across one end of the long living-room was stretched a rope and on it displayed the lovely little dresses for various aged girls, which were ready to go overseas. There was a boy's suit too, and an Afghan and crib comforter—the two latter were sold.

A long table held a wide miscellany of articles, almost all useful and all pretty.

The regular W.I. meeting came first and was rather a lively affair, as we had a little money, and wished to know the members' preference as to its use. It was decided to send contributions to the Red Cross prisoners of war fund, to the Greek relief and Chinese relief funds and also to the W.I. emergency fund.

The roll-call was "name a vitamin," and this called forth some interesting facts regarding these highly important elements with which we are getting acquainted. Mrs. Gordon McClure, our very efficient secretary, gave a report on the amount of work done and then we settled down to enjoy two truly worth-while papers.

Mrs. Elton Armstrong of Armitage gave a truly arresting one on "reconstruction." It dealt with many phases of Canadian life and the many problems which face those who would see a fairer, healthier, stronger Canada. She spoke of farm life and its problems, of education, of health and especially of the effort being put forth to conquer venereal diseases, and she spoke of the challenge there was to us women to make the reconstruction real.

Mrs. Frank Williams spoke on a subject vital to us all—plasma—its composition and its powers. She made us see how vital it is to war work and what a boon it will be in civil life.

Both papers were thoroughly appreciated and will stay with us. After the regular meeting closed people surged about the tables and soon, very soon, there was only empty space where a short time before articles lay piled in profusion, and best of all, a very tidy sum was realized to help with the war-while work the W.I. is so anxious to carry on. As I said before, it wasn't a huge affair, it was a homey one among friends who got real pleasure out of being together and finding suitable things to carry away.

Tea, sandwiches and cakes.

arrived by the members, made a nice interlude in the buying.

There was everything from pails to powder, and from aprons to alibans, and all found someone who wanted just that particular article. So we all feel that a bazaar is a mighty fine way of replenishing a depleted exchequer.

Remember!

THERE ARE BOYS in prison camps who are remembering, at this moment, that while they had their freedom they supported the Red Cross and its drives for mercy. . . . Weeping to forge the chain which has been their greatest protection in dark days they did not expect. . . . Each member of the civilized world is a link in the mutual responsibility of man for man. . . . Each individual possesses this responsibility to the extent of his own ability to share in it. Support the Red Cross drive!

The Right to Get Ahead

IN THIS NEW WORLD a man has had the right to speak and write and worship in his own way. He has enjoyed the right, too, to work at what suited him and to get ahead according to his talents.

A real man strives to make his own way in the world.

He takes the rough with the smooth.

He safeguards his own future by his own frugality and thrift.

ENERGY AND ENTERPRISE built Canada's prosperity.

Without these rugged qualities we should never have gained the prestige we enjoy in the world today.

Now we are defending the common man's right to make the most of this heritage of freedom.

The man who is free to prosper is also free to protect himself and provide independence for himself and his family.

FOR GENERATIONS, in good times and bad, the common man has relied on life insurance for protection.

Life insurance has grown into a great co-operative partnership of the whole people. Only through this partnership can a man create an immediate estate for himself out of what he earns.

Mass enterprise and mass unselfishness of over four million policyholders have provided every man and woman with the means of securing at low cost the certainty of a cushioned future.

"I owe my life to the RED CROSS"

SUCH is the grateful testimony of countless fighting men who kept their "rendevous with Death" and live to tell the tale. Every Red Cross triumph over death, wounds, disease and human agony is that in which you may take pride. Because it is YOUR Red Cross. Thus it is you who help those in pain and peril.

Now as the dreadful carnage of war increases—as more famine-stricken countries are made accessible to your Red Cross, the need grows at terrific pace. So much money is needed to maintain a steady flow of parcels for prisoners of war, of blood serum, medical supplies and dressings, surgical instruments, hospitals and hospital equipment, food and clothing, to name but a few of the demands on your Red Cross. TO PAY TAXES PROMPTLY

War-time taxes are necessarily so heavy as to be a financial problem for every Canadian. It is advisable to save money to pay taxes promptly, but if through unforeseen circumstances you find yourself without sufficient cash to meet them when due, a bank loan is probably the best solution to your problem. A loan may actually save money for you by enabling you to avoid penalties for overdue taxes.

Our policy in making personal loans is to help Canadian wage-and-salary-earners, professional men and women and business executives to keep financially fit. We therefore make such loans—at very low rates and on easy terms of payment. Do not hesitate to talk over your needs in confidence with the manager of our branch in your own locality.

The cost is low, and the terms are fair:

Only $3.65 for a $100 loan repayable in 12 monthly instalments; smaller and larger loans at proportionate cost.

Greenstides—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Jennie May Greenstides, who passed away March 14, 1943.

Her charming ways and smiling face
Are a pleasure to recall,
She had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.

Sadly missed and ever remem- bered by her husband and family.

Morning—In loving memory of Lawrence (Pete) Morning, who passed away March 10, 1927.

There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance last forever.
Always remembered by father,
Mother, brothers and sisters.

Morton—In loving memory of Rose Morton, wife of the late James Morton, who passed away March 13, 1942.

No one knows how much we miss you
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.

When days are dark and friends are few
Dear mother how we think of you;
We mourn for you in silence,
No eyes can see us weep,
But many a silent tear is shed
While others are asleep.

Ever remembered by Norma, Joe, Melvin and Bruce Morton.

Player—In loving memory of our dear and noble son, J. W. Clarkson Player, who passed on three years ago on March 12.

Dear son, you are never forgotten
As the years roll swiftly place
Memory of old sweet yesterday
Of wake in the lit of a song.
Or, perchance it's a sudden fancy
When evening shadows near
And I vision you in the doorway
With your old sweet smile so dear.

Thus our dear hearts still remember
Forever, while life shall last,
That you were one of God's noblest;
Too soon was your short life passed.

But somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies,
We know, dear Clarkson, you're waiting
Midst the beauty of heavenly skies.

Too dearly loved and too sadly missed to be ever forgotten.
Mother and daddy, wife Mildred, sister Mildred and brother-in-law

MAGISTRATE'S COURT DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST EX-SOLDIER

In York county magistrate's court, held in Newmarket last week, Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe dismissed two charges against J. R. Callcott, Toronto, of dangerous driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The charges arose out of an accident on Eagle St., on Oct. 9, 1943, when it was alleged that an army truck driven by Callcott, then on active service and stationed at the Newmarket military camp, was in collision with a bicycle driven by Frank Stickleland, Newmarket, who was seriously injured as a result.

"In this case, dangerous driving, I assume that the vehicle driven by Mr. Callcott is the truck involved in the accident," stated the magistrate. "However, I am not satisfied that there is enough evidence to convict the accused, so I am dismissing that charge. As regards the charge of leaving the scene of the accident, both Callcott and his helper, Mr. Drysdale, consistently denied any knowledge whatever of the accident. Both swear that at no time did they see Mr. Stickleland riding the bicycle along Eagle St. They deny seeing him before or after the accident."

"The only evidence against Callcott that I have is that of Mr. Bales, who was walking in the neighborhood. Bales says that he saw the truck stop. Both Callcott and Drysdale denied that it stopped. Bales, who was near the accident, swears that he didn't hear any sound. It is supposed that both Callcott and Drysdale would hear no sound. It is quite unusual that there is no sound. However, this might be explained by the fact that the truck came into collision with the handle-grips of the bicycle and that these are made of leather. Taking into consideration all the circumstances involved, I am allowing Callcott the benefit of the doubt and dismissing that charge."

Pleading guilty to charges of forging two government cheques, Mrs. Windover, Kingston, was sentenced to jail for a term of six months on each count, the terms to run concurrently. The defendant admitted that on Nov. 27, 1943, she forged and cashed, at the Bank of Montreal, Newmarket, a Dominion of Canada cheque made out in favor of Mrs. Nettie M. Scott, in the amount of $141.60. She also admitted forging and cashing at the Bank of Toronto, Newmarket, a Dominion of Canada cheque made in favor of Mrs. Helen L. Harris, in the amount of $84.60.

Chief Constable James Sloss told his worship that as a result of complaint of the Bank of Montreal, he had made an investigation regarding the passing of a cheque and that the defendant, Mrs. Windover, was arrested in Kingston.

"I showed her the cheques and she admitted that the endorsement on the backs were in her handwriting," stated the officer. "She admitted getting the money for one of them at the Bank of Montreal. She admitted cashing the other also."

"Did she give any explanation why she cashed these cheques?" questioned Magistrate Woodliffe.

"No, she hadn't any explanation to offer," replied the officer.

"Did she say where she got the cheques?" "Yes, she said that she got them at Barrie by taking them from mail-boxes."

Asked by the magistrate how old she was, Mrs. Windover said that she was 23 years of age and that she might say that that woman is the mother of a seven months baby," further stated Chief Sloss. "The child is with the Kingston Children's Aid Society at present."

Asked if any restitution had as yet been made, the officer stated that none of the money had been returned.

Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong said that the defendant had faced a charge of "uttering a forged document" in Galt on Dec. 23, 1943, at which time she was placed on suspended sentence for one year. Questioned about this, Mrs. Windover told his worship that her husband, who had been convicted along with her, had taken the prison sentence and was now serving time at Kingston penitentiary.

A jail sentence of 60 days was meted out to 21-year-old Pte. F. E. Kittigar, Queensville, a member of the Queen's York Rangers reserve, who pleaded guilty to theft of his majesty the king, valued at $37.15 and consisting of a cap, battle-dress, tunic, trousers, gaiters, boots, great-coat and small pack.

According to Sgt. Howard Bunn, who is in charge of the clothing of the army reserve corps in Aurora, the defendant had come to him on Jan. 28 and told him that he had left a parcel at the armories and would like to get it. The witness said that as he was busy at the time and could not leave his work he told the youth to get in touch with the caretaker of the armories.

In answer to questions of the crown, Harry Sutton, Aurora, caretaker of the armories, stated that the defendant had come to him and told him that Sgt. Bunn had sent him to get a new uniform.

"I gave him a great-coat, cap, tunic, battle-dress, trousers, gaiters, boots and a small knapsack," stated the witness. "I later found out that the accused had no authority from Sgt. Bunn to get the clothes."

Pte. Kittigar told his worship that the uniform which had been issued him was too large and that he wanted one fitted. He said that he did not go to the armories because the uniform looked untidy.

"Did you go to the armories after you got the new uniform?" asked his worship.

"No, mother was informed to keep the uniform from me," stated the defendant.

Capt. J. L. R. Bell, Newmarket, testified that Pte. Kittigar had joined the York Rangers on May 5, 1943, and since the first parade after his induction he had not attended any parades.

"We endeavored to summon him for not appearing at the parades but could not locate him," stated the officer. "He was supposed to live in Queensville but we couldn't

MARKHAM IS HOST TO COUNTY SEED SHOW

An attractive prize list has been published for the eighth annual York county seed fair by the York County Crop Improvement Association, which is conducting the fair at a different centre in the county each year. This year the Markham Agricultural Society is host to the fair in the Markham town hall on Friday, March 17.

The prize money is liberal in all classes, with increased premiums being offered in certified late potatoes, of which there are now 13 growers in York county. Eight prizes are being offered in that class.

As usual, all exhibits, except potatoes and fall wheat, must be officially graded and the control certificate number of the seed for sale given on the entry form or given to the secretary by the day of the fair. One pound samples of grains or four ounces of small seeds should be forwarded to the Production Services, Plant Products, 86 Colborne St., Toronto, at once and marked "for York county seed fair," so that the grading staff can push the samples through.

As the demand for seed is heavy this spring, the seed fair will be an excellent advertising medium through which either to sell or buy seed. There is always a large attendance at the fair and, with Dr. G. I. Christie as special speaker for the afternoon, a full hall is assured.

Judging of seed will commence at 10 a.m. and be completed by 1 p.m. At 2:30 p.m. Dr. Christie will speak. The judges will comment on the classes. Following this the five bushel lots of registered oats and registered barley will be sold by auction. In the morning those wishing fanning mill screen material will be able to secure this if they bring along their frames and a pint sample of the seed they wish to clean.

find him there."

The witness stated that of the two uniforms, the one issued to the accused and the one stolen, all but a pair of boots, a pair of anklets and a great-coat had been returned. He stated that the articles had been returned in good shape.

The mother of the accused boy called at The Era and Express office after court and said that she did not get to court in time to testify. She said that the uniform had not been returned in time because there had been no answer when she called the militia telephone number in Toronto in order to find out when to return the uniform.

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT

Council Concerned About New Commission's Bills

Concern about the power bills of the Aurora Hydro-Electric Commission to the town was expressed at an Aurora town council meeting on Monday evening.

These bills would amount to $6,000 a year for power and lighting for town purposes.

"The charges made do not sound like what was said in the 'Mechanics' hall," said Deputy Reeve A. A. Cook, referring to a ratepayers' meeting when representatives of the Ontario Hydro-Electric explained what was becoming a Hydro municipality would mean.

Mr. Cook thought that a standby charge for the town's second 70 horsepower fire pump, with its motor wired, but the pump disconnected, was "unjust." It was unlikely that the two pumps would ever be used at the same time, he said.

"What happens to the money paid to the commission?" asked Mr. Cook.

"It all remains in town," explained Mayor Roscoe Linton, who is a member of the commission. "It will be spent in town on improvement of the plant."

"Is there any chance of payment of surplus to the town?" asked Councillor Thomas Swindle.

"No, the only payment out of surplus would be by way of reduction of rates," said Mayor Linton. "But you have to remember that there hasn't been much spent on the system recently. We should have off-peak hot-water heaters. That would take some capital if the commission is to own them."

Councillor Rod V. Smith suggested that the town might save $125 a month by cutting down 300-watt lamps to 200 watts.

"You want your main street well lighted," said Mayor Linton. "It is a matter for the streets committee."

"It is up to us to save what we can for the taxpayers," said Councillor A. N. Fisher.

"If there is anything we can do to cut the cost down, and get the service we should, we should do it," said Councillor Thomas Swindle.

Mayor Linton invited the chairmen of the water, streets and finance committees to meet with the Aurora Hydro commission next Monday evening.

WITH THE CHURCHES

BETTY BLAY WEDS

A marriage of interest to Aurorans took place on Wednesday, March 1, at St. Andrew's Anglican church, when Elizabeth Meryle ("Betty"), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. ("Bill") Blay, Toronto, formerly of Aurora, became the bride of Sub-Lieut. Thor Stensrud, Royal Norwegian Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Stensrud, Trondheim, Norway.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward W. Pinnington.

CITIZENSHIP HAS DUTIES, MRS. MAITLAND TELLS W.A.

Trinity United Church W.A. met on March 2.

Mrs. J. E. Morris had charge of the devotional reading from Psalm 91. Mrs. W. Morton led in prayer.

Mrs. J. A. Maitland spoke on "Christian Citizenship." She said a citizen is one who owes allegiance to a government and expects protection from that government.

"Citizenship implies duties and responsibilities as well as rights and privileges," Mrs. Maitland said. "Some of our citizens are so apathetic to their democratic institutions that they don't even bother voting."

"The women of Vancouver have instituted a 'Women's School for Citizenship' and are doing splendid work. Winnipeg and Toronto are following suit."

"Women should become informed about the issues at stake as a result of this war. Only an informed public can take an intelligent stand on the questions which will come up for decision."

"A Christian citizen owes allegiance to God and has definite responsibilities as such."

A gift of $10 was made to the China and India relief fund and a gift of $25 to the war work committee of the Newmarket Women's Institute.

Mrs. John Klees and Cecil Adair, who were delegates at the Ontario Horticultural Association convention recently, gave their reports.

Seniors Run Rampant, Junior Team Wins Too

Aurora high school junior and senior basketball teams took their second straight wins in the North York inter-scholastic basketball loop last Thursday by defeating St. Andrew's College quintets with dispatch. The seniors ran rampant over the Andreans, winning 24-8. The juniors, although smaller than the Saints, managed a five-point win. Bill Williams headed the senior attack with six points and Doug Pratt with eight led the juniors.

Lowry of the seniors and Hockstetter of the juniors were best for St. Andrew's. C. R. Blackstock of Pickering College handled the games.

Swim-Pool Or Library As War Memorial Discussed

Councillor Rod V. Smith's sports and publicity committee will consider a proposal from Leslie Beazer that he lease the Aurora arena for the summer months.

He would hold weekly dances "that would be a credit to the town," and make it available for auction sales and bingos, he said at an Aurora town council meeting on Monday evening.

Mr. Beazer said that if the town had a swimming-pool he would like to teach swimming. He said that he had been "brought up in the Y.M.C.A. and had been teaching swimming since he was ten years old."

"If you had a swimming-pool here the people who swim at Lake Wilcox would come here to swim," said Mr. Beazer.

Mr. Beazer said that he would like to give leadership to the youth of the town.

Mayor Roscoe Linton commented that the town needed someone's services at the tennis courts.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Play-off eve at the weekend found all four intermediate teams ready for the finale and confident of victory. Most of them had reason to be too, for the boys went well in practice and reinforcements came to them all at the last minute to strengthen the teams in their weak spots.

Sgt. Montgomery, a former member of the Ottawa Commandos senior team, suddenly appeared from nowhere to bolster the defence of Alex. Stewart's doughty Newmarket Redmen. Alex. thought Xmas was here when he heard the news and, with Lieut. Pat Corrigan in the nets, was ready for Brampton.

The Bulls, too, had cause for rejoicing, for to the Carroll clan came Jack Ingoldby, ace sniper of District Depot, the Toronto Garrison league winners, and, previous to that, one of the rookie members of the Toronto Leafs and Providence Reds. Ingoldby, son of a well-known hockey father, played junior with De La Salle Oaklands and did well in pro for a youngster. In amateur ranks he is a virtual powerhouse. Whether or not Ingoldby will be allowed to play remains to be seen, although he doubtless will be. The other three teams will likely object to an already strong team being strengthened.

"Buck" Thomas, former Young Ranger defenceman, is ready for action with No. 2 C.A.C.T.R. and should do much to bolster the defence, one of the Rams' obvious weak spots. No. 2 would like, very much, as would Tech. and Schools, to secure the services of Lieut. Alan Kuntz, ex-New York Ranger, and star of the vanquished No. 1 team. George Brooks, classy netminder for No. 3, has been legitimately transferred to T. & S. and, since he has already played one game in the school nets, will likely see action for his new team. Brooks, as Newmarket fans can testify, is one of the best performers in amateur ranks today and will be a big improvement on Frank Mazze.

"Red" Williams, one of the stars of District Depot, is another addition to the T. & S. team and fits in well with Tech.'s style of play.

Orillia camp, hopelessly outclassed all season, played Newmarket camp an exhibition game last week in aid of the Red Cross and, strengthened by the addition of Brooks and Chad Bark of No. 3, Alex. Sandalak, George Ketcheson, Glen Brydson, "Mickey" McGuire, "Red" Williams, Jimmy Boddy of Tech., and Urban Morrison, left-winger of No. 2, defeated the Redmen 2-1. An injury occurred to Corrigan in the Newmarket nets and he was replaced by Mazze, who could not stem the tide. The Orillia Red Cross realized around $1,500 from the game and gave the visitors a chicken dinner and dance. Players who performed for T. & S. in league fixtures but were not seen by Newmarket fans include Bob Finch, Winnipeg, who played overseas for the famous Fort Garry Horse team, Bill Patterson, another Winnipeg boy, back from overseas with the Strathconas, former St. Boniface junior, and the veteran "Mickey" Craven, who once played for Medicine Hat.

"Chuck" Hamilton, former Young Ranger who centred Tech.'s second string line and is now at Brockville, is the son of Controller Fred Hamilton, Toronto, prominent sportsman and father of the famous Sports Service League, which has supplied so much needed equipment for the troops in training.

Oshawa Generals, who finished their season with a 203-goal total in 26 games, for an average of 7.43 goals per game over the season, have been receiving fanfare for a new junior scoring record, said to be the best in the O.H.A. The Generals are plenty good, but we think the scoring record this season will go to the local C.A.C. group.

Brampton Bulls, for instance, with 12 games played, have a nifty season average of 12.33 goals per game and only 3.33 goals scored against. This is one of the best averages we recollect being set up over a similar schedule and it indicates what the boys will be facing in the play-offs. T. & S. No. 2 and Newmarket had as good a record as Oshawa offensively over the season.

Scoring records, listed by the O.H.A. and of interest to district fans, show "Scotty" Mair with a 22-point total, made up of nine goals and 13 assists in two-thirds of the Toronto Navy senior schedule. Normie Mann, once ace of the Newmarket Redmen, over the season had a 35-point total, with eight goals and 27 assists for the team. He placed in the first ten in the league.

Bill Armstrong, star of Toronto Navy junior team, now currently meeting Hamilton Whizzers, after playing junior B hockey in the local group all winter, is listed as second high scorer for Toronto Marlboros, with whom he played part time. Bill had a 15-point total, just slightly lower than he had in the local group.

Jackie Watson, with Hamilton, had a six-point total, creditable for the number of games the Markham boy actually played during the regular season. Enio Sciallari, the Italian lad from Milton, well-remembered locally, was second high man for Stratford juniors with 31 points. He is finishing the year with Hamilton.

Bill Simpelt, who played intermediate hockey in the local group for Midland last winter and this year was with Port Colborne, had a 26-point record.

Eyebrows may lift when we mention that "Whitey" Bartlett, Brampton defenceman, Urban Morrison and Ray Hilliard, both of No. 2 C.A.C.T.R., appear in the list of players used by Stratford juniors. We won't mention the date. Herbie Cain, at the weekend, was still leading the N.H.L. scoring race but fellows like Lorne Carr, Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko were closing in fast. We are keeping our fingers crossed, for we would like to see the affable, hard-fighting Newmarket boy returned as cock of the walk for the year. We have received a clipping from one of our readers, now resident in Montreal, about Herb's scoring records. It seems that Herbie, while not doing much hollering about it, has a just best so far as the official scorers are concerned and in a recent interview with "Dink" Carroll, hockey expert of the Montreal Gazette, the Newmarket boy is quoted as follows:

"Did you ever hear of a fellow performing the 'hat trick' and only being credited with one point? Well, neither did I. But I know I scored four goals the first night we played Rangers at home this season and only got credit for one. The first goal I scored that night was the only one that counted. The second one came near the close of the period and the goal judge couldn't find the button to flash the light. Before he located it the green light came on to show the period was over. On the third one, McAuley was out of the net when I shot. Art Jackson waved idly at the puck with his stick as it went by with a sort of gesture as if to help it along.

The scorer thought he got his stick out it and gave the goal to Art. On the last one, I was right in on the goal and took a baseball swing at the puck. I hit it with the heel of my stick and knocked it in. The referee didn't see the play and ruled that I'd kicked it in and called off the goal."

Those of us who know Herbie know he would not make such a claim unless the thing actually happened. Not being counted with the three tallies may make a difference in the records. Right now, for instance, Bentley is said to be the actual leader in goals, whereas it should be Herb. A couple of weeks will tell the tale, and, unfortunately, the Bruins are not going so well right now.

Monty McCrae is a name that perhaps only a few will remember but if you think hard enough you will remember him as that snappy skating master at St. Andrew's College in the late thirties who played town league hockey for Aurora and intermediate hockey for Newmarket. Monty is now an officer in the Canadian navy and was married last week to an Oakville girl.

Yes, Heaney and the lads playing at the same time regarded McCrae as in a class by himself when turning on the heat. Louis Brunelle, after a long spell in the hospital, is playing hockey once again and is fast regaining his form with No. 2. Brunelle will be recalled as the star of the 1913 Windsor team which went down to defeat last winter before the onslaught of Aurora Ordnance.

Connie Hill, bespectacled defenceman for No. 1 C.A.C.T.R., unknown to most of the teams, played while under official suspension. Hill, who hails from Sudbury, has just been reinstated by the O.H.A. for the "tiff" he had last year with the Belleville club, where he was supposed to play. There is no room for argument, however, as No. 1 did no damage to the contending teams in the group.

Combines won the Richmond Hill and district league last week, downing Maple in the finals. Richmond Hill, who finished first over the regular schedule, was put out by the third-place Combines 3-2 on the round, while Maple by a 3-2 count dropped the second-place Woodbridge team as they surged up from the fourth position. Combines won the first game 4-2, but Maple, backed by some wonderful goaltending by "Nibs" Saigle, came back to win the second game 2-0.

Seated at the piano, Michele Morgan, who shares starring honors with Jack Haley and Frank Sinatra, hears Frank sing one of the hit songs composed by Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson in "Higher and Higher," which plays Monday and Tuesday at the Strand theatre.

BETHEL

Leslie Sleight Was Former N. G. Resident

Word has been received of the death of Leslie Sleight on Feb. 26, in Bowmanville hospital. "Les," as he was better known, was of English birth, and was employed as a farm hand in North Gwillimbury for several years. He had a cheerful disposition and made many friends. He was fond of music and enjoyed meeting at neighbors' homes to pass the evening singing. He was a choir member.

Surviving are his wife, the former Myrtle Brooks, and a little daughter, Dawna.

Mrs. Angus Cameron is seriously ill in the Toronto General hospital.

Miss Bernice Winch, Orillia, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Winch. Mr. Clarence Selby, Toronto, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Selby, over the weekend. Miss Glenna Nelson underwent an operation in the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, last Thursday. She is reported to be improving.

There were quite a number absent from church on Sunday, ill with the "flu." Rev. Dr. H. J. Pritchard preached an inspiring sermon from St. John 7:37.

The teams then went into over-time and Combines checked for two heart-beatners to win out 6-1. Murray Dowdy, who had a trial with Toronto Leafs, was a stonewall in the cage, while "iced" last year with Chicago Blackhawks, made two real defencemen out of the 'taylor brothers from Oak Ridge, no strangers to Aurora ice. Irky Ross, along with White and Cosgrove, who formed a line for Newmarket juniors, were the dangerous snipers for the Combines.

Richmond Hill Combines now enter the O.H.A. strengthened. It is questionable if "Red" Mitchell will be granted the right to play. The Hill winners were originally slated to meet the winners of the Aurora town league for the North York title, but that can't be for a couple of weeks perhaps. It would be a series worth watching and should draw good crowds.

Ritchie Sayers, a favorite with Aurora fans for his fine performance with King City in other years, is a member of the Combines too. Hockey sticks have been a liability to most clubs this winter. The sticks do not seem to be as good as usual and there have been hardly enough to go around. Recently Jack Adams of Detroit made a hurried trip to Toledo, Ohio, to purchase the entire stock of a sporting goods house in that city that was going out of business.

Elizabeth Snively, Lake Wilcox, who is attending Toronto Varsity and is one of the best girl skiers in Canada, has been picked as a member of the Canadian team which meets an American team in international competition in the Laurentians next week.

New army boxing rules are in effect now, much to the joy of the ordinary fight fan, and are calculated to enable Canadian and British soldiers to fight international bouts on an equal footing. Up to now the Canadian army rules of competition have been the same as those of the Imperial Service Boxing Association. The main points are, the referee out of the ring, no cheering by the crowd during the progress of the bout, two judges voting, with the referee only voting in case of a tie. Now the Anglo-American Boxing Association has been formed, governing the troops in Free French units, U.S.A. and Commonwealth forces. The referee now is in the ring, but he does not vote. He announces the decision formulated by three judges, and has only three words of command, "stop," "box on" and "break." The crowd meanwhile can roar its head off. As usual one of the ideas is to stop the bout before any serious damage is done to a disabled fighter. We have seen the new rules in action twice and they have gone over big.

Jack Dugan, a middleweight from No. 23 H.T.C. Newmarket, right now looks like a real prospect. Dugan, in fast competition at home and at Borden, has won two bouts by technical knock-outs and should go far in competition. He is one of the proteges of R.S.M. "Paddy" Farrell, who knows all the tricks of the squared circle from A to Z, and still is able to step into the ring and show the best of them, a few nifty pointers. Farrell right now is doing a grand job with a minimum of time at his disposal in bered something he had heard previously and stopped Bark to ask about certain people. Net result was that the two boys who had never met before were distant relatives. The two lads are among (Page 8)

A sailor lands at an Eastern Canada port and telephones his mother in a faraway Ontario town. He has been on convoy duty, whereabouts unknown, for seven months. In a couple of minutes he is home.

"It was like a voice from paradise," his mother told our operator.

Every Bell operator, every Bell lineman is conscious of the importance of handling today's great volume of wartime messages with the least possible delay. Through their efforts, plus the public's co-operation in avoiding non-essential calls, messages still go through with near-normal speed.

In 1943, it took an average of 124 seconds to complete a long distance call—not very much longer than in normal times.

Roy Gibson Excels

Roy Gibson and Herman Bennitz, two top-notch bowlers in the Newmarket league, are rolling the five-pin game with the de Havilland entry in Toronto every Thursday evening.

Herman Bennitz seems to be holding his own with the Toronto bowlers. He is one of the four highest, among 96 bowlers, rolling 846 points for three consecutive games and with his handicap of 39 making a grand total of 885.

Roy Gibson, who has the highest mark for three consecutive games in the Newmarket league, seems to be shy of the bright lights and is not up to his mark. These two players are competing against bowlers who roll well over the 300 mark, some even going over 400.

It looks as though last year's winners, the Office Specialty entry, are on the top rung once again, increasing their lead each week. Last week these boys rolled the best three games of the season, with a score of well over 3,300.

Ray Jelley's Plumbers, the fourth-place team, are now finding their stride a little too late to catch the Specialty.

With two more weeks before the play-offs, it looks as though the teams will finish: Office Specialty, de Havilland, H. E. Gilroy's Merchants and Ray Jelley's Plumbers.

Have Fair Average

In 21 games to date in the ladies' bowling league, Deano Mulherd is leading all comers with an average of 164.15, with Rose Lee close behind with an average of 161.3. Ada Rose, Margaret VanZant and Maud Ruppke are rolling over the 150-point mark.

Skating Is Good

Many skiers took advantage of the last snowfall to journey to the Newmarket ski trails, reporting the best skiing conditions this season.

Something to Think About

The town fathers, when making post-war plans, will be well repaid if a recreation centre for the younger folk of this district is not overlooked.

The lot between Nesbitt's and the Red and White store would be an ideal location for a recreation building and under good supervision would be an asset to the younger people of this district.

One of the best mares of John Stuart, the Aurora boy who bids fair to be as sensational on the race-track this year as he is in the business world as a merchant, has produced an entry for the 1947 running of the King's Plate. An Aurora boy, Charlie Smith, rode home the plate winner a few years ago. Perhaps now we may see another Aurora boy as owner win the coveted guinea. The plate, by the way, aside from the honor, is now worth over $13,000 in hard cash to the winner, less tax.

Hardball, while hardly seasonable, is not too far away, and we notice that the Ontario and Toronto leaders in the sport are getting things ready for the new season.

The National Baseball Congress has named its officers and among the Canadian representatives named is Major Adams of Newmarket camp, who is directing a camp sport. Earlier in the year we hinted that both Newmarket camp and Newmarket town might be seen in Congress competition, and with hard-working major on the job this can pretty well be taken as read.

We imagine that service teams will play by themselves this year, as they are now doing in hockey, and the civilian teams will likewise be by themselves. The competition will not suffer for the arrangement either, as there are few civilian teams who can come close to the boys on service and that is apparent even in the Newmarket town league. Newmarket is a good baseball town and even competition will attract good crowds, be it civilian or military.

Lou Walker, who around 20 years ago was playing hardball and lacrosse for Bradford and who for the past decade has been a big promoter of baseball in Toronto, is again on the executive of the T.A.B.

Baseball registration week will commence March 25 in Toronto and throughout Ontario for the purpose of obtaining the names of boys from 14 to 20 who played with no team last year but want to do so this year. It is a good idea and any centre wishing to do similarly may get particulars by contacting Commissioner Lloyd Douglas, 315 Yonge St., Toronto. We intimated last year that we thought the future of baseball in Newmarket rested in the developing of players among kids and that a good juvenile league would solve the problem.

There is a real idea for Newmarket as well as Aurora and Richmond Hill—a baseball registration week. Last year Richmond Hill and Aurora both had kid teams, which played sporadically but at least did play, and we hope Leon Simmons and Bill Holloway will be on the job again this year. Now is the time to get the necessary organization under way.

Stop press: Since the opening paragraphs of the above were written the decision has been made by C.A.C. hockey officials that the season will start on the first season's roster and no new additions will be allowed.

Brampton camp played Don Bowen on Monday at Newmarket. Bowen, according to the records, played for the Bullets in the last scheduled game of the season and was therefore ruled eligible. Jack Ingoldby of the Maple Leafs, while having appeared in one league game for Brampton, was declared to be ineligible because by official army documents he did not appear on the strength of No. 21 H.P.C. before the final Brampton game, and his transfer was too late.

Newmarket Redmen, by virtue of the ruling, lost the expected services of Pat Montgomery and also those of Dolson, a smart netminder from Bradford, and another senior player from Halifax, N.S. The trio who might have helped the Redmen to advantage on Monday came on the strength of No. 23 too late.

Our opinion is that the speedy Bullets would have won in any case. F. A. S. are not expected to be allowed to play George Brooks of No. 3 in the nets, although their own netminder, Frank Masse, will not be available. A mutual arrangement between No. 2 and No. 3 may be reached.

It is not as yet known what ruling will be made regarding the Redmen. With a loss of strength in time but a defeated game actually prevented him from qualifying "Buck" Thomas was declared ineligible for No. 2.

Games, not goals, will decide both series. Brampton plays Newmarket at home this evening and if a third game is necessary it will be played in Milton next Monday.

GET YOUR 1944 MOTOR VEHICLE PERMIT NOW

Your 1944 motor vehicle permit is now ready. Good citizenship and good sense tell you to get it now. Take good care of your 1943 plate. Wartime restrictions require that you use it for another year. Your motor vehicle permit fee remains the same. With your 1944 motor vehicle permit there will be issued a windshield stamp such as that illustrated. The display of this stamp will validate the use of your 1943 plate. 1944 drivers' licenses are now available and should be secured at once.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

Do you know that both your motor vehicle permit and driver's license will be automatically suspended until you file proof of financial responsibility if you are convicted of a violation of the law following an accident? You may find an insurance policy difficult to secure then. It is better to drive safely and avoid accidents than to find yourself unable to drive at all.
